Health Delivered Company profile

Health Delivered designs dietary management technology solutions to tackle the growing rates of obesity, diabetes and other chronic health issues. The goal is to optimise patient care by providing health care professionals with tools to improve their efficiency and optimise client engagement.

Through the platform, medical professionals will have access to real-time data regarding the dietary and biometric inputs of their patients. This will allow them to assess existing treatments and recommendations, and engage with their clients remotely with personalised data in between regular consultations.
