SkinView Company Profile

SkinView is a subsidiary of GP2U Telehealth, Australia's leading provider of online care/telehealth. SkinView has developed a suite of very low cost attachments for smartphones capable of turning them into connected medical devices. SkinView is also developing complementary algorithms to facilitate automated diagnosis of target disease states, including melanoma.

SkinView will initially focus on eliminating unnecessary deaths from melanoma by lowering the barriers to Dermoscopy utilization and through the automated diagnosis of suspicious skin lesions.
